I'm taking the Udemy course Deep Learning A-Z: Hands-On Artifical Neural Networks and after following along with the ANN theory and example decided to grab a dataset and try to build an ANN myself.

Naturally I went straight to the UC Irvine Machine Learning Repository and picked out a dataset that was small since I didn't want to affect my monthly download capacity. The dataset is here:

https://archive.ics.uci.edu/ml/datasets/car+evaluation